Gary, talked to Mickey Edmondson, consultant for CES Trustee. They have somewhat of a mess. Vandals has been going into the facility and stolen tanker trucks, roll-offs, vac boxes, etc. Also, somebody opened a valve from a tank they used to flash hydrocarbons and other containers that released creosotic/phenols material which with rain water flowed towards the front of the facility. He already have ICON Env. removing the contaminated water from the front and building berms around to prevent another offsite release. In the back, somebody emptied the semi solid contents of a vac box (nasty stuff from what I remember in PACES) before stealing it and that's the stuff that runoff towards the neighborhood. He's already built berms for that area to prevent offsite. He wants to talk to you for more details. If you call know, call him at home since he just got there and there's bad cell reception. Otherwise he'll be at the site in the am.
